ADELAIDE FESTIVAL 2014 – A STUNNING SUCCESS

Adelaide Festival 2014 resulted in a positive economic benefit to South Australia of $24 million. 29% of all ticket buyers travelled from interstate or overseas to attend the festival, generating almost 120,000 visitor bed nights and $17.1 million in new revenue to the state. Council contributed $375,000 to the 2014 Adelaide Festival.

The interstate and overseas visitors were extremely positive in their assessment of the 2014 event with 75% indicating that they were likely to visit Adelaide again as a result of their visit to the festival.

Box Office revenue exceeded target delivering in excess of $2.3 million across 39 ticketed events. Total attendances for all 50 Adelaide Festival events were the highest in four years. Festival club Lola's Pergola focussed on the very best food and wine from South Australia attracting even more festival-goers than its predecessor, the hugely successful Barrio.

NAIDOC WEEK CELEBRATIONS

NAIDOC Week begins on 6 July, and showcases Indigenous people's achievements and their contributions to the nation. It is a time to renew commitments to reconciliation to help create a better future for Indigenous Australians. NAIDOC stands for National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Day of Observance Committee. The acronym for this Committee, "NAIDOC", has now become commonly known as an annual weeklong Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultural festival.

The festival has a long history, stemming back to a human rights movement for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders people in the 1920s. NAIDOC however was not officially started as a Committee until 1957. In 1974, the NADOC committee was composed entirely of Aboriginal members for the first time. The following year, it was decided that the event should cover a week, from the first to second Sunday in July.

Events this year include a Flag Raising Ceremony and NAIDOC Awards at the Town Hall on Monday 7 July at 10.00 am and a March to Parliament House leaving Victoria Square/Tarntanyangga at 10.30am on Friday 11 July, followed at 12 noon by Family Fun Day at Bonython Park/Tulya Wodli.

ANOTHER GREAT REASON TO VISIT ADELAIDE

We often lament the thought that Adelaide cannot compete with the many regional shopping centres that are growing all over suburban Adelaide. But the great attraction and draw card for coming to the city is to have the chance to enjoy something more than just the shopping experience, good as that may be. The North Terrace cultural boulevard offers so many wonderful attractions to add to the shopping experience which just are not available when you visit your ordinary run-of-the-mill Westfield's Centre!

The Art Gallery's most ambitious acquisition to date - the beautiful Prairie a Eragny painted in 1886 by Impressionist artist Camille Pissarro - will go on public display on Saturday 23 August. This work which is reputed to have been purchased at auction last November for a sum of $4.5 million was made possible by the generous contribution of many donors and the Art Gallery of SA Foundation Masterwork Appeal.
